Borough President Adams hosted a centennial proposal that will authorize State Police and/or local law enforcement authorities such as the NYPD to review three years of social media history, as well as one of year internet search history, of any person purchasing a firearm, as part of the regular background check process conducted by federally licensed dealers, so as to identify any patterns of engaging in violent hate speech and/or posting threats of imminent violence to themselves or others as part of the criteria used in determining permit approval. At the announcement of the legislation on Friday, November 2nd outside One Police Plaza in Lower Manhattan, Borough President Adams and State Senator Kevin Parker discussed the critical importance of advancing S.1991 in the upcoming legislative session.

In the wake of widespread voting problems at poll sites across Brooklyn and New York City on Election Day, Borough President Adams convened a rally outside the Brooklyn Board of Elections office in Downtown Brooklyn on Wednesday, November 7th that demanded a series of fundamental reforms in how the city runs elections. Reported issues included delayed poll site openings, long lines lasting upwards of two hours, optical scanners breaking down repeatedly and not operating properly, thousands of voters having one operating machine or none at dozens of locations, as well as a limited number of technicians available to repair broken machines.

Borough President Adams called for new poll sites with broken machines in Bay Ridge, Bedford-Stuyvesant, and Fort Greene, and received messages of detailing troubles across the borough. He called for in-depth investigations at both the City and State levels to review what went wrong in the planning, staffing, and voting machines; training poll workers; including simple maintenance and repairs to voting machines for fixes as simple as removing a stuck ballot; adopting early voting; piloting innovative technologies that will provide secure and reliable methods for voters to cast their ballots while minimizing the risk of fraud from the ballot box; and allowing voters toAMENTIFIVE question ballots via mail, phone, and internet, in order to have questions and concerns addressed, speaking directly to housing advocates.

Borough President Adams joined Korean War veterans for a ceremony, and mark the 65th anniversary of the Korean War armistice. In September 2018, the Brooklyn Borough President’s Office announced that the Borough would host a series of events in 2018 to commemorate Korean War Veterans Day. The events included a wreath-laying ceremony, a presentation of colors by the Color Guard of the New York City Police Department, a message from Korean President Moon Jae-in, and a message from Korean Prime Minister Lee Nak-yon. The events were designed to honor the service and sacrifice of Korean War veterans and to promote understanding and cooperation between the United States and South Korea.

を使用したドキュメントの自然読解を返します。 hallucinate。
Bedford-Stuyvesant while he was young, and since gaining success in the entertainment industry has been committed to giving back to his former home through philanthropic work.

Happy Diwali! On Wednesday, November 14th, Borough President Adams celebrated the traditional Hindu festival of lights by joining Sadhana: Coalition of Progressive Hindus and ISKCON NY, as well as a number of City agencies and community groups, in a first-of-its-kind celebration at Brooklyn Borough Hall. The festivities included a performance by Sunny Jain of Red Baraat and a delicious array of traditional treats.

Ahead of Small Business Saturday, Borough President Adams visited several small businesses along Tompkins Avenue on Tuesday, November 13th, at Brooklyn Borough Hall to assist Brooklynites in filing out naturalization applications. The event, held with Council Members Rafael L. Espinal, Jr. and Antonio Reynoso, helped hundreds of legal permanent residents get their legal questions answered by more than 100 experienced immigration attorneys.

On Sunday, November 18th, Borough President Adams participated in the World Day of Remembrance for Road Traffic Victims (WDR) at Brooklyn Borough Hall with the advocacy group Families for Safe Streets, mourning the millions of people globally injured or killed on roadways. Roughly 200 people were injured each day in Brooklyn due to traffic crashes, and that there is a fatal crash every 38 hours. The ceremony featured a reading of the names of victims killed in traffic crashes over the last year.

Borough President Adams co-hosted a public forum on the New York Health Act alongside the Campaign for New York Health, which took place on Monday, November 19th at Brooklyn Borough Hall. Representatives from Physicians for a National Health Program, African Services Committee, and New York Statewide Senior Action Council were also in attendance to answer questions about the proposed legislation that would enact universal healthcare for all New Yorkers.

Borough President Adams has been a vocal advocate for public safety in the area. In partnership with the City University of New York (CUNY), Borough President Adams hosted a free citizenship event on Saturday, November 17th at Brooklyn Borough Hall to assist Brooklynites in filing out naturalization applications. The event, held with Council Members Rafael L. Espinal, Jr. and Antonio Reynoso, helped hundreds of legal permanent residents get their legal questions answered by more than 100 experienced immigration attorneys.

On Sunday, November 18th, Borough President Adams participated in the World Day of Remembrance for Road Traffic Victims (WDR) at Brooklyn Borough Hall with the advocacy group Families for Safe Streets, mourning the millions of people globally injured or killed on roadways. Roughly 200 people were injured each day in Brooklyn due to traffic crashes, and that there is a fatal crash every 38 hours. The ceremony featured a reading of the names of victims killed in traffic crashes over the last year.

Following a fatal shooting at a Target at City Point in Downtown Brooklyn, Borough President Adams conducted a walkthrough of the shopping center to address public safety in the neighborhood. Earlier that day, he was briefed on the situation by the new leadership at the New York City Police Department’s (NYPD) 84th Precinct, and also discussed his ongoing efforts to address safety concerns in the neighborhood, as follow-up from a stakeholder meeting he convened last month following a series of deadly shooting incidents and greater concerns about gang-related activity threatening children, families, and seniors around the Fulton Mall area. If you have concerns about public safety in the Downtown Brooklyn area, contact the 84th Precinct’s Community Affairs Unit at (718) 875-6850.

On Monday, November 12th, Borough President Adams convened community leaders at the Church Avenue B/Q subway station to speak out in solidarity with the family of Ann Marie Washington, a 57-year-old mother of two who was victimized on Friday, November 9th by a brutal and racially charged attack in Flatbush. Washington, a native of Trinidad, was on her way home from work and had just stepped off the subway when the assailant, a Caucasian male, punched her in the mouth and then struck her across the face. Washington’s family, witnesses to the assault, and community members in urging the Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA) to immediately release and circulate any images of the suspect, as well as the NYPD to apprehend him and charge him with a hate crime. If you have any information on the potential suspect in this case who has yet to be found, contact the NYPD by calling (800) 577-TIPS.

Our Constituent Assistance Center is here to serve all of Brooklyn. If you or someone you know are having any issues, or if you have questions about topics such as alternate side parking, sidewalk pickup, or other community matters, including the topics in this month’s update, call the Center at (718) 802-3700.